Biography

David How (he/him/his) is an associate in the Business Law Group at Cassels. David's practice focuses on Aboriginal, environmental, and regulatory law matters. David completed his joint Juris Doctor/Bachelor of Civil Law degrees at McGill University Faculty of Law. He serves on the Board of Directors of the Federation of Asian Canadian Lawyers BC and is Co-Chair of their Advocacy Committee. While attending law school, David volunteered with Pro Bono Students Canada, where he assisted with a Supreme Court of Canada case, and with the Legal Information Clinic at McGill. David also represented McGill at the 28th Annual Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot where he placed in the top 25th percentile of oralists. David spent a summer working at a full service law firm in Singapore and has extensive experience in the restaurant industry. Prior to joining Cassels as an associate, David was a summer and articling student at the firm.
