Biography

Randall Blom is an associate in the Business Law Group at Cassels. Randall's practice focuses on general corporate and commercial law and securities transactions, with particular experience in the mining sector. He represents public companies as well as investment dealers in a variety of transactions, including corporate financings, going public transactions and mergers and acquisitions. His practice also includes advising issuers with respect to general corporate and securities law matters, such as corporate governance practices and continuous disclosure and regulatory compliance.

Randall also holds a certificate in Mining Law from Osgoode Hall, and he previously served as legal counsel at a mining company specializing in the production of gold and silver.
