Biography

Sandra Johnson is a paralegal in the Securities Group at Cassels. In this role, Sandra assists with securities and regulatory related matters for reporting and private issuers, including continuous disclosure obligations, private placements, prospectus filings, shareholder meetings, insider reporting and stock exchange submissions.

Prior to joining Cassels, Sandra spent four years at a Vancouver boutique securities law firm as a legal assistant, and more than 10 years as a corporate secretary for several publicly listed companies, ensuring the companies conducted their business in compliance with applicable corporate and securities legislation.
