Biography

Shannon Scrocchi is an associate in the Business Law Group at Cassels. Shannon's practice focuses on public and private mergers and acquisitions, securities offerings, and general corporate and securities law matters. Prior to joining Cassels as an associate, Shannon was both a summer student and an articling student at the firm.

Shannon graduated from the J.D./H.B.A. combined degree program with Western Law and Ivey Business School. In her final academic year, Shannon graduated with distinction from Ivey. During her time in law school, Shannon volunteered with Pro Bono Students Canada through the Community Outreach Program, offering educational programs to the community, focusing on the youth criminal justice system, employment law, and landlord and tenant rights. In the fall of 2018, Shannon spent a semester abroad at the University of Groningen in the Netherlands, where she took various international law courses.

Prior to entering the combined degree program, Shannon studied psychology at Western University. During this time she was actively involved in the community through initiatives such as the Out of the Cold Soup Kitchen and the Stand By Me mentorship program run through the local school board. In addition to these extracurricular commitments, Shannon spent two summers working at Camp Ooch, where she remains actively involved with the organization through their volunteer programs.
